istry of Deels.

In his letter he said: "If purchance I abould ever break my resolution, I shall have secured a home for my wife and chilenoust ever treak my resolution, I shall have secured a home for my wife and children. I prefer, however, they should not know anything of this for the present. If I live to come home, I will give Mary the deel with my own hands, if not, you can do it. Now that the name is bought, you had better stack it, for I still stick to my motto, "Not another drop, Dariel,"

Another year passed. By this line, Friend Edgenton had socked the farm with young cattle and sheep. The fences were put in repair—and everything but the house wore a tidy appearance.

Another remittance came which paid for all the stock, and with an overplus with which to repair the house.

Cupcinters were long, and the villagers who chanced to jass that way found that extensive repairs were going on; still no one presumed to question the Quaker with respect to his plants.

These repairs all completed—terminare found its way to the house. A yoke of exercisers seen on the farm. The villagers were actouished to see the Quiker driving an elegant horse, and riving in a new buggy. He received this short note one day: "I have strived, all saic and sound. He rede over to the adjoining town and called at Mary's father's and invited her and the children togo home with him and make him and his wife a visit. They accepted the invitation and he took them home.

The next afternoon he said, "Mary, I have got to go to the railroad station, but thee and the children can stay with Amy," He went and got Daniel Akin, and did not reach home till after dork. He left Daniel in his own home, nicely furnished, to which he had previously conveyed provisions; and left han there to pass the night.

EMPRIACEMENT.

The impeaclment trial has may so for progressed as to reveal the Eart profit weelf understood before, that proceedination is to be the chief tactics of the party arraighed It is evidently the intent of the President and his counsel to prolong the investigation as medicas possible, and if need be, to carby it on no the time for the inauguration of his successor. Certain State trialsie looked to as precedents, where months, and years were remaphed, and it is doubtless haped to make this as famous and no lengthy as they were. Mr. Johnson's asswer to the charges presental against him is evidently framed with reference to this purpose, but we think the plan will proven failure. The Squite is not to be wifed with, and it will be found, if the fort has not already been discovered, that Congress is in currest and will not be threated In the purpose to have a fair and spenly with. It is due to the whole country that a conclusion should be resched as quickly as possible. Let the matter be pressed for ward with all the dispatch which justice to the accused will allow, find whatever the result arry be the people will acquiests in the decision. Though Americal demoralized by the example of the law breaking President, the masses are yet law abiding and submissive to the duly constituted an thorities. The following is an abstract of the Presi-

deats reply:

At one o'clock Mr. Wade varieted the chair and a moment after Chief Justice Classe entered by the rear door, the mana gers and the House of Representatives on terrd, and then came the House itself in one body. The Presidents coursel entered by the rear door and took seats.

There was an addition to them in person, r. Grosheck of Cincinnali and Wio. Evans of New York. After quiet had been restor-ed, Mr. Deolittle was called, appeared and took eath. The journal was then

The teading of the journal which was proceeded with in a slow deliberate manner gave the vast audience full opportunity at observing each other, and the various perobserving each other, and the various per-sons on the floor and in the diplomatic gal-lery, and opera glasses were feerly used to facilitate the sight in the somewhat difficult fight which prevails in the character.

At the conclusion of the reading of the journal, Garrett Davis got up and submitted a resolution in writing saying that the Con-editation required two Sentiors from each State. This body has not jurisdiction to try the pending case.

Mr. Wilson, of the managers, instantly rose and moved that Davis' motion, be not received, and Mr. Davis was quashed, hay ing no votes for his proposition except his own and that of his colleague, Newman

Stanberry then rose and said with rune feeling, that the counsel, owing to the short time given, have worked without intermisilon to its preparation, and submit the Pres-Heat's answer.

Jay Cooke on Pinance, Mr Jay Cooke has published a very able letter, stating the reason why both, the Jaterest and the palacipal of the five-twenty loan should be pald in coin. He argues that the officers of residing the greenbacks accessary to pay them would be to setal gold up to 500 per cent, so those who inrested in the Government bonds would receive but a fifth of their investment at gold value. Mr Cooke strongly condemns Sentor Sherman's funding bill, especially the provision for the compulsory conversion of provided, and says that no greater himdrame than this could be placed in the way of the speedy conversion of this foan into the proposed consolidated debt. He claims that there is no hand-holding class, but that the bonds are held by all classes of the community, avers that we have at least $250. 080,000 more gold and silver colu and but fion than we laid at the beginning of 1861, and all that is wanted now to ensure speedy and safe resumption of specie payments, after the completion of the funding of the seven-thirties, is to fix the day.
